Good Roads And Education

In a report made to the Minister of Education for Saskatchewan, Mr. D. S. McCannell, chief attendance officer in the province, to whom is entrusted the administration of the Compulsory School Attendance Act, says, in part, as among the reasons assigned for the absence of children from rural schools: "Impassable roads, but this is a condition which will improve as the province grows older.

In previous issues, the writer of this column has dwelt upon the importance and necessity of good roads in these western provinces, and also upon the absolute necessity that farm boys and girls should be given the best possible education and kept in school as long as possible. In this article we hope to make clear the bearing which the provision of good roads has upon the successful carrying out of a better schools policy and a higher average attendance at school.

There are four main groups under which every problem treated as peculiar to rural communities are or can be properly grouped:

First: Greater production or more intensive farming, which is primarily a question of more population on the land.

Second: Proper educational facilities for the boys and girls, or provision for a high school education without forcing parents to leave the farm at the period of their greatest production in order to give their children an even start with the town boy and girl in educational equipment.

Third: Proper social and amusement facilities for the entire family as a primary means of keeping them contented with life on the farm.

Fourth: The development of a community spirit, hearty co-operation in a social and economic way, as the best means for guaranteeing the prosperity and contentment of all.

Thus, roughly, do we group the various topics which concern the relations of the people one with another, as distinguished from those which deal with those things that concern the individual farmer, such as better crops and improved livestock.

Now analyze this proposition: The solution of all these problems, the one final answer to them, the one thing that will lay the foundation that will make them possible, and leaves but details in connection with each to be arranged, but without which success cannot be achieved, is a passable system of all-the-year good roads.

In some of our more thickly populated districts in the West, a consolidated school would mean a vast improvement over several small district schools. It would be a better school in every way, and provision for high school training would be possible. But without good roads for the conveyance of pupils the consolidated school and rural high school is impracticable, and many of such schools established in the United States have been abandoned solely because of the impossibility of transporting the school children over the existing roads.

But, it is said, it will take money to build roads. Certainly it will, and lots of it. But the city dweller cannot live in an eight- or ten-room house with electric lights, hot water and other modern conveniences for the same outlay that he can live in a cave. He pays for those conveniences and he finds that it pays him to pay for them. So with good roads—they will more than pay for themselves.

Here in Western Canada we are somewhat inclined to look upon the Province of Quebec as backward and slow because we are not fully informed of what is transpiring there. Within the past fifteen years Quebec has been forging ahead, in general agriculture, dairying and livestock raising, faster than Ontario, and in some respects more rapidly and substantially than these Western Provinces. Industrially and commercially it is going ahead by leaps and bounds, and a complete transformation is taking place educationally.

What is the basis for this development in Quebec? Everyone who has studied it has but one answer: Good roads. The Province of Quebec has now the best roads in the Dominion, as far as it has gone, and it means to continue until every farmer can get his goods to market, his children to school, and his family to church, without a breakdown or being mired.

Some years ago the Provincial Government asked for authority to spend $20,000,000 on roads. Some people who think the French-Canadian habitant is penurious and unprogressive might give some thought to the fact that they enthusiastically gave the necessary authority. That $20,000,000 has been spent, and Quebec now leads the Dominion in good roads. Two or three months ago the Government appealed to the people for a new mandate to keep on spending millions on good roads, the result being that a majority of Government supporters were returned by acclamation.

(Note—Further consideration of this important subject will be reserved for next week.)

ECZEMA IN RASH CUTICURA HEALS

Very Itchy and Burned. Troubled Six Weeks.

"Our daughter's face came out in a rash that we were told was eczema. Her cheeks got sore and the rubbing caused loss of sleep. The breaking out was very itchy and burned so that I had to tie gloves on her hands to keep her from scratching."

"This trouble lasted about six weeks before I used Cuticura. I used one large box of Cuticura Ointment with two cakes of Cuticura Soap when she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. H. Stares, Elmheim Rd., Galt, Ont.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Tablets are ideal for daily toilet uses. For free sample send for Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Tablets to: Dept. A, Boston, U. S. A. Sold everywhere.

FREQUENT HEADACHES

A Sure Sign That The Blood Is Very And Impure

People with thin blood are much more subject to headaches than full-blooded people, and the form of anaemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbance of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this effectively, and the rich, red blood made by these pills will remove the headache.

More disturbances to the health are caused by the blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment, and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are undernourished, and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to feel any symptoms of any of these disorders, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition every symptom of the trouble will disappear. There are more people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than to any other medicine, and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any drug store, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Even a hen can scratch up trouble between neighbors.

German—Gold Hoard Surrendered
After the conclusion of the armistice at Spa, it was decided that Germany, before being re-occupied, must deposit with the National Bank of Brussels as guarantee 370,000,000 marks (normally $92,500,000).

Part of this gold was placed at the disposal of the Bank of England in New York. It is now being taken from Brussels to London, whence it will be conveyed to New York in consignments of $4,000,000 and $8,000,000, guarded by escorts of Belgian soldiers.

Ex-Kaiser Goes Calling

The Hague.—Former Emperor William of Germany, for the first time since he took refuge in Holland, was a guest outside Bontick Castle. Accompanied by his wife, who made a previous visit there, and by Count and Countess Bentinck, William Hohenzollern motored to Belmont Castle, 10 miles from Amerongen, and took tea with the Countess Constant. The once imperial couple returned late in the evening to Amerongen in a closed automobile.

Six Killed On Ship

Vancouver.—S. McRae, of Vancouver, second engineer, and five Chinese firemen were killed on the steaming Mattle Dollar, of Vancouver. The nature of the accident which caused the deaths of the six men is not known here. The steamer was off the China coast at the time, having left the port some weeks ago for the Orient.

Pain Flees Before It.—There is more virtue in a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil as a subduer of pain than in gallons of other medicine. The public know this and there are few households throughout the country where it cannot be found. Thirty years of use has familiarized the people with it, and made it a household medicine throughout the western world.

There is no radical cure for laziness, but starvation will come the nearest to it.

LEMONS MAKE SKIN

WHITE, SOFT, CLEAR

Make This Beauty Lotion for a Few Cents and See for Yourself

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to whiten the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with something to take this way: Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well, and you have a whole quarter pint of skin beautifying lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to use the lemon juice so as to get into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any drugist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

Don't be ashamed to begin life with a small shop; you may eventually be the owner of a three-story circus.

Minard's Liniment Cures Burns, Etc.

Always Serviceable.—Most pills lose their properties with age. Not so with Parment's Vegetable Pills. The pill mass is so compounded that their strength and effectiveness is preserved, and the pills can be carried anywhere without fear of losing their potency. This is a quality that few pills possess. Some pills lose their power, but not so with Parment's. They will maintain their freshness and potency for a long time.

Men listen when money talks. Probably that is why we sometimes hear of hush money.

He's starting right

Dad is happy to find that his boy won't have to put up with what he went through—dull blades, tingling face, half-removed stubble.

Instead the lad will experience only the cleanliness and comfort, the sense of physical well being that follow a cool, clean, safety shave such as only an AutoStrop Razor can give. This and the fact that the AutoStrop Razor sharpens its own blades, and is not taken apart for stopping or cleaning, has led thousands of dads everywhere to recommend the AutoStrop Razor to their sons.

Ford SEDAN

Electric Starting and Lighting

THE new Ford Electrical System is as great an achievement as the Ford Motor.

No better starting and lighting system is supplied with any car—at any price.

See it for yourself. See it work. It is a complete two-unit system, Starting Motor, Generator and Battery—built into the Ford Motor—a product of the Ford plant.

The Ford car is also equipped with the Standard Magneto to provide ignition independent of the batteries.

The whole system is controlled from an instrument board on the cowl.

It is now supplied as Standard Equipment on all Ford Enclosed Models.

If you will phone—or call—we will introduce you to the Ford Sedan. You owe it to yourself to learn why men who can afford big costly cars prefer the Ford Sedan.

PRICES—including Electric Starting and Lighting, Ford Sedan $1175. Ford Coupe $975. L. o. b. Ford, Ont. (War tax extra).

Demountable rims, tire carrier and non-skid tires on rear as optional equipment on closed cars only at $50.00 extra.

Sunken Eyes Brighten Quickly, Health Returns

In a Message to Ailing Women Doctor
Hamilton Tells How It Is Done

In speaking of the ills from which women suffer, Dr. Hamilton points out that nine out of every ten men are by nature inclined to habitual constipation. Harsh purgatives are resorted to which only intensify the trouble. Although not generally known, it is a constipated condition of the bowels that causes half the sickness and tired weariness with which all womanhood is so familiar. It was after long years of study that Dr. Hamilton perfected the pills which have been of such marvelous benefit to women the world-over. In his pills of Mandrake and Butternut every sufferer will find an absolute specific for constipation, sick headache and biliousness. It is safe to say that Dr. Hamilton's Pills bring better health and keep the system in a more vigorous condition than any other medicine ever discovered. At all dealers, in 25c boxes.

THE COW PUNCHER

— BY —
ROBERT J. C. STEAD

Copyrighted, Canada, 1918, By
The Mueson Book Co., Ltd.,
Toronto. Printed By Special Arrangement.

"Fool," he said to himself. And because he could think of no more specific expression to suit his feelings, and because expression of any kind brought a sort of relief, he kept on repeating the word, "Fool, fool, fool!" And as his self-condemnation gradually won him back to a sense of perspective, he became aware of the danger of his position. He went over the events of the latter month and tried to be better than he had. He had left his ranch home to better himself, to learn things, to rise to be somebody. He had worked harder than ever before, at more disagreeable employment; he had lived in conditions that were almost nauseating, and what had he learned? That you can't beat a card man at his own game, prize sixty dollars, - and that the gallery seats are cheaper, and sometimes safer, than the orchestra.

Then all of a sudden he thought of Renie. He had not thought of her much of late; he had been so busy in the days, and so tired at nights, that he had not thought of her much. True, she was always in the back of his mind; in his dreamy days, and the frankness of her girlhood made him disgusted and ashamed. It was to fit himself for her that he had come to town, and what sort of mess was he making of it? He was going down instead of up. He had squandered his little money, and now he was squandering his life. He had been drunk.

Dave's nature was one in which emotions were accentuated with their own intensity. When he was miserable his misery left no place in his soul for any ray of sunshine. It fed on itself, and grew to amazing proportions. It spread out from its original cause and enveloped his whole life. It shattered all his relationships, past, present, and future. When a cloud of gloom settled upon him he felt that it would never lift, but became heavier and heavier until he was crushed under its weight. And the sudden manner in which Renie had now invaded his consciousness intensified the blackness in which he was submerged, as lightning darkens the storm. He saw her on that last night, with the moonlight wooing her white face, until his own body had collapsed in a war of passion, and he heard her words, "I know you are true and clean."

True and clean. "Yes, thank God, I am still that," he cried, springing suddenly to his feet and commencing to dress. "I've been spattered, but nothing that won't wash off. Perhaps," and he stopped at the great thought struck him, "perhaps it was the foulest thing in the world that the booze did put me out last night. . . . I'll wash off."

There was considerable comfort in this thought. He had wasted some precious months, but he had not gone too far, and there was still time to turn back. But his must begin work at once on the serious business of life. With this resolve his spirits revived with a rush, and he found himself whistling as he completed his toilet. There was no breakfast for the late sleepers Sunday mornings, and he went at once into the warm air outside. The sunshine fondled his body, his limbs, his face; the spring ozone was in his lungs; it was good to be alive. Alive for a purpose. Well, he would start at once; how could he begin a life of purpose today? He was quite set on the necessity of doing something, but quite at sea as to what that something should be. It occurred to him for the first time that society had been much more generous in supplying facilities for a boy to go down hill than to go up.

He became aware of a bell ringing. At first the sound had fallen only on his subconsciousness, but gradually he became aware of it, as one being slowly recalled from sleep. Then he remembered that it was Sunday, and that was a church bell. He had often heard them on Sundays. He was about to dismiss the matter when a strange impulse came into his mind. Why not go to church? He had never been in church, and he felt that the surroundings of the goal hall would be much more congenial. He had little stomach for church. What if the rest of the gang should learn he had been at church?

"I believe you're afraid to go," he said to himself. That settled it. In a few minutes he was at the church door, where an old man, after surveying him somewhat dubiously, gave him a formal handshake and passed him into the hands of an usher. The usher led him down an aisle and crowded him into a small pew with several others. There were many unexpected pews, so Dave concluded it must be a church policy to fill them full as far as they went. He also observed that the building was filling up from the rear, notwithstanding the efforts of the ushers to cajole the people farther down the aisles. Dave reflected that the custom here was quite different from the theatre, especially the "rush" gallery, where everyone scrambled for the front seats.

He was very conscious of being observed, and there was an atmosphere of formality and, as it seemed to him, of strained goodness that made him uncomfortable. But presently the organ commenced and diverted his interest from himself. It was very wonderful. His position commanded a view of the organist, and Dave marvelled at the manner in which that gentleman's feet hopped about, and how his hands flourished up and down, and occasionally jumped from the keyboard altogether to jerk out a piece of the machine. Then the choir filed in. They were all dressed alike, and the men had a kind of a gown on. Dave thought that was very silly. By some mental freak he found himself picturing a man with a gown, a rope a tier, and it was only by a sudden tightening of his jaws that he prevented an explosion of amusement. He was still feeling very happy over this when a tall man entered from a side door and ascended the steps to the pulpit. He moved very solemnly, and when he sat down, rested his head on his hand for a minute. Then he looked over the audience, and Dave thought that his expression was one of approval. Then he looked at the ceiling.

"He feels safe in his seat," thought Dave. "No buckin' in this bunch. Well."

The organ had broken forth in a great burst of sound and everyone

Breathe Deeply, Then Listen For That Bronchial Wheeze

Dangerous to Neglect Troubles in the Chest, Throat or Nose
at This Season

Rough, wheezy breathing means danger ahead. Every day you defer treatment makes it harder to cure. Don't delay. Bronchial and lung troubles are all too frequent. Start today with "Catharhose," breathe in its pure balsamic vapor. Let its healing gases do for you what strong medicine never can. Nothing so certain as a Catharhose Inhaler to strengthen a weak throat, to rid you of Bronchitis, to drive out catarrh, coughs and colds. Use Catharhose to prevent, to cure, to cure. Physicians endorse it, hospitals use it. Thousands swear by it. Two months' treatment, large size, $10.00; smaller sizes 25 cents and 50 cents, all dealers or The Catharhose Co., Kingston, Canada.

was standing up. Dave did so, too, belatedly. Then everybody sang. They seemed to know just what to sing. It was all new to Dave, but it sounded all right. It made him feel just like the sunshine did after the study room. Then they all sat down. Dave was becoming more alert, and was not caught napping in this movement.

There was a short prayer, which Dave did not understand, and more singing by everybody, and then the ushers came around for the collection. Dave did not know how much to put on the plate, but he supposed a good seat like this in the theatre would cost a dollar, so he put that amount. He noticed that his neighbor on one side put on a nickel, and on the other side nothing at all. He began to think he must have made a mistake. All this time the organ was playing hoisterously, but suddenly it dropped to a low, meditative theme, and Dave began to fear it would stop altogether. But, no; a young woman was standing up in the choir; she was pretty, with quite a different air and finer comeliness than that of the theatre girls of the night before. In some vague way she seemed reminiscent of Renie Hardy. Dave's introspection was not deep enough to know that any fine girl would remind him of Renie Hardy.

Then she began to sing, and he felt again that the sunshine was playing about him, but this time he heard the birds, too, and the ripple of the distant water, and the stir of the spruce trees, and he could see the lattice of sunlight through their dark leaves playing on the brown grass, and there was a smell of distant wood smoke, and the glow of dying coals.

He was swaying gently in his seat, held in the thrall of her voice, and suddenly he was glad he had put a dollar on the plate. He could not follow all the words, but it was something about a land where the sun would never go down. Well — no doubt the preacher would tell them more about it.

Then there was a long prayer by the preacher. He began addressing the Deity as all mighty and all knowing, and then spent many minutes in drawing his attention to details which had evidently escaped His notice, and in offering suggestions for the better government of the universe. He dwelt on the humility and penitence of the congregation, including himself, and at this point Dave's unorthodox ear began to detect a false note. He looked about from preacher to congregation, and saw no evidence of penitence or humility. "If God is all-knowing," said Dave to himself, "that preacher is going to get in wrong. Why, he couldn't put over that humility business on me."

At length it seemed that the sermon was really going to commence, but a well dressed man came down the aisle and read a long financial statement. Dave gathered from it that the Lord was pretty hard pressed for ready cash. "No wonder," thought he, "if they all give nickels and nothings." Pretty well dressed bunch, too.

Finally the preacher took the meeting in hand again, and announced his text, but Dave soon forgot it in trying to follow the sermon. It was an orthodox exposition of the doctrine of the atonement. Dave would not have known it by that name, and there were many expressions which he could not understand, but out of a maze of phrases he found himself being slowly shocked into an attitude of uncompromising hostility. There was no doubt about it: the preacher was declaring that an innocent One had been murdered that the guilty might go free.

Mounted Police Strength

For First Time in History Now in Excess of Sixteen Hundred

— Regina, Sask. — For the first time in the history of the force, the strength of the R.N.W.M.P. is in excess of 1,600 all ranks. Shortly after the outbreak of the war 500 men were taken on for a period of one year, bringing the strength to more than 1,500.

At the expiration of the year these men enlisted in various units when they learned there was no change of the force going overseas as a unit. Continued enlistment and drafts brought the force to low ebb about a year ago.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns. They then cut and trim at these painful places, which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw, and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called trexone applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief, and soon the entire corn root and all, like corn, without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of trexone, which costs very little. It is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an edible compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue, or skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.

"If I'm disturbing you, father, I'll stop. I'm only practicing to kill time," said the young girl, pictured in Judge.

"Better stop, my dear, I think you've killed him."

Do not suffer another day with itching, bleeding, or burning piles. No surgical operation required. Dr. Chamberlain's Ointment will relieve you at once and at certainly cure you. # Peace Treaty Is Signed By Austria

St. Germain.—Austria's signature to the peace treaty and the departure of Dr. Karl Renner, the Austrian Chancellor and head of the peace delegation, for Vienna in an endeavor to brace up the unstable government have caused a feeling of relief in conference circles, where there has been great uneasiness lest the Vienna government should fall before the completion of the treaty.

The Bulgarian treaty probably will be handed to the Bulgarian delegation on Sept. 12 at the French Foreign Office, where arrangements have been made for an informal ceremony, the Bulgarians having expressed discontent in the proposed simple delivery of the treaty by the secretary of the conference.

Probably 21 days will be granted the Bulgarians to make observations on the treaty, and it is expected that the conference will take a short vacation while the Bulgarians have it under consideration.

Dr. Renner's cheerful acceptance of the treaty which had been frankly denounced as impossible of acceptance, and the dignified good nature he displayed throughout the day's ordeal, when he alone faced the peace conference and signed the document which seals the fate of the old Austro-Hungarian empire and precludes the union of the old Austro-Hungarian empire and remaining fragments of the dual empire with Germany, proved the transcending feature of the ceremony and excited the imagination of all the allied delegates and spectators.

The feeling of friendliness among Austria's former enemies inspired by Dr. Renner's sportsmanlike conduct augurs well for Austria, and is generally commented upon as assurance that Vienna, with its two millions of population, and the four millions in the remaining bit of old Austria, comprising the present republic, may reasonably expect amelioration of the treaty terms in the near future if they make an honest effort to live up to them.

Against Leaving

Russia To Fate

Col. John Ward Warns Britain of Real Meaning of Evacuation of Territory

London.—Col. John Ward, Labor member of the House of Commons, who has just returned from Russia, in an interview said that to desert the Russians who had rallied to our standard will make our name sink in the nostrils of every non-Bolshevik in Russia. "We went to Russia to prevent the Germans from transferring them to the western front," he declared. "Are we now to say to those who rallied round us, 'You have served our turn, we are going. We wish you luck'?" That, said Col. Ward, is unthinkable. It would be black treachery to leave them to face the enemies they have made for our sakes without anything more substantial than our goodwill.

Sir Arthur Currie on War Gratitudes

Hamilton, Ont.—General Sir Arthur Currie, the Canadian commander, who was received with open arms by this city, stated that while he sympathized with the veterans in their efforts to secure a more liberal allowance, he thought the $2,000 gratuity asked would prove too great a burden for the country to bear. The veterans' plea to have a commission appointed to consider their claims was reasonable, he said, and should receive consideration. He was in favor of generous pensions, and said the present pension regulations would have to be readjusted.

British Monitor Was Not Raided

London.—It is declared in official quarters that there is no truth in the report that a party of Sinn Féin on a recent night had boarded a British monitor off Cork, overpowered the skeleton crew and raided the vessel. The report, printed in the Daily News, added that the raiders had escaped with a quantity of rifles, munitions and valuable instruments.

Wheat Board Ruling

New Order Forbids Railway Companies to Transfer Wheat Without a Permit

Winnipeg.—The Canadian Wheat Board has issued an order (No. 42) which stipulates that no wheat shall be transferred by any railway company in the following areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan without a permit from the Canadian Wheat Board. In Alberta: The area bounded on the north by the C.P.R., Lacmille to Camper; on the west the boundary line of the province; on the south the international boundary; and east by the Saskatchewan river. In Saskatchewan: C.P.R. subdivision, Cutknife, Wilkie, Hardisty, Maclean, Balfour, Kerrobert, Coronation, Swift Current, Empress, Maple Creek, Maynard, Shaunavon and Govenlock.

C.N.R. subdivision, Kindersley, Hanna, Eros and Delisle. G.T.P. line, Trandorsto, Arltand, Biggar, Calgary branch, Cutknife branch and Altan, Battleford branch.

Will Paralyze Steel Industry

Great Strike Is Declared Despite An Appeal From President Wilson to Wait

Washington.—Regardless of the request of President Wilson that they take no action pending the coming industrial conference, representatives of the organized workers in the steel industry called a strike, effective September 22, to compel recognition of their unions, and of the principle of collective bargaining by the United States Steel Corporation.

The executive council of the 24 unions represented among the workers made known their decision in an announcement issued after they had requested the President, by telegraph, for a "more definite statement" as to the possibilities of arranging a conference with the corporation officials, and after they had received a reply from the President asking that they withhold action until after the industrial conference.

Aliens In Canada

W. D. Euler Will Enquire How Many Are Still Interned

Ottawa.—The question of interned aliens is to be brought to the notice of the House of Commons by W. D. Euler, Non-attached, steel corporation officials, and after they had received a reply from the President asking that they withhold action until after the industrial conference.

Gave His Blood to Save Life

Kington, Ont.—A case of unusual self-sacrifice is revealed in an operation performed in the Queen Military Hospital. Sergt. Thompson, a patient at the hospital, is a victim of pernicious anaemia, and the hospital doctors decided that a transfusion of blood was necessary. Volunteers were asked for, and the first to offer was Harry Parkes, an orderly at the hospital. The operation was carried out successfully. A pint of blood was drawn from Parkes and transfused into the system of Thompson. Both men are doing well, and the patient's life will be prolonged many years.

War Indemnity For Australia

Melbourne.—Premier Hughes has informed the members of the Australian cabinet that if Germany makes the first indemnity payment by 1920 Australia's share will be ten million pounds sterling. When the indemnity was fully paid, he stated, Australia's share would be nearly sixty million pounds sterling.

Serious Outbreak Of Rioting In Boston

Two Men and Boy Killed in Turbulent Outbreaks in Massachusetts Capital

Boston, Mass.—Two men and a boy were killed in turbulent outbreaks growing out of the police strike. There were numerous injuries of a minor nature to members of mobs, police officers and state guardsmen.

The most serious disturbances were in the vicinity of Scollay Square and South Boston. Cavalry charged the crowds, and a machine gun was used, one man being killed and several wounded by its fire. Property damage was slight compared to that inflicted by the wild rampage of hoodlums.

One of the most serious elements in the complicated outlook was the possibility of sympathetic strikes by labor unions, which have declared their support of the policemen's union. Like the nation's organization, most of these unions are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. The crowd early became riotous and cavalrymen were sent to disperse it. The mob surged in and out of the square. Shots were fired and an unidentified man was killed. A woman was wounded in the arm, a middle-aged volunteer policeman was so badly beaten that he was removed to a hospital, and three cavalrymen were hit over the heads by other missiles and also were given hospital treatment. After military reinforcements arrived the square was finally cleared.

The South Boston district was so turbulent that it was considered one of the worst danger spots, and a large force of troops was thrown in there. For some time they had in check the mobs of the Peninsula section, but late at night conditions were so menacing that a machine gun crew was rushed over to aid them.

So fierce was the resistance of the angry crowd to the efforts of the guardsmen to preserve some sort of order that guns were leveled and the machine guns were in position. All sorts of missiles were hurled at the guardsmen. A shower of stones so endangered the soldiers that machine gun crews were ordered to fire. One man was killed and several wounded.

Hurricane Hits Florida

It Is Believed That The Damage Will Exceed $2,000,000

Key West, Fla.—Lower Florida was paralyzed as a result of a violent hurricane that passed over that section. Three hundred and twenty frame buildings practically were razed, many church edifices wrecked and five retail stores tipped over. The damage is estimated at more than $2,000,000.

Shipping off the coast met with disaster. Several vessels were sunk and others were driven on to the reefs. A strong wind and rough sea prevented rescue work.

In the little town of Goulds, near Miami, eight buildings were totally destroyed and 13 partially demolished.

Although the property damage was enormous, no fatality has been reported.

The steamer Grampus, with a crew of 125 men, was sunk in Key West harbor, and the two-masted schooner U. V. Drew, bound from Tampico for Cuba, with a crew of seven men, was reported sunk off Key West harbor, where she had put in to escape the storm. Whether or not the crews escaped is not known. The navy radio station was put out of commission. Fruit and vegetable growers suffered the heaviest losses, the damage around Miami being estimated at half a million dollars.

$400,000 Wage Increases

Winnipeg.—Although no official statement will be made until the end of the week, it is learned from an authoritative source that wage increases to the extent of $400,000 must be made by the Winnipeg Electric Railway, according to a decision reached by the Mathers board, which recently set to investigate the men's grievances. The increases may be made retroactive, it is stated. This increase will affect carmen, conductors, motormen, trackmen, repairmen and inspectors.

For State Ownership Of British Mines

Strike Leaders Released

Were Greeted By Large Gathering of Sympathisers on Leaving Jail

Winnipeg.—After twenty-six days' incarceration, the eight strike leaders who have been held in the provincial jail pending their trial on charges of seditious conspiracy, were granted bail. Chief Justice Mathers, who, together with Mr. Justice MacDonald and Mr. Justice McCreary, heard the arguments of counsel, read the decision of the court.

Bail was granted in the sum of $4,000 each and two sureties of $2,000 each.

The court found that it had not been proven that the accused would not appear to stand their trial, and the decision went on to state: "The court would not be justified in refusing bail on the sole ground that public safety might be endangered by permitting the accused to be at large."

The decision, as read by Chief Justice Mathers, follows: "Because of the great public interest involved in this prosecution, and because bail has once been refused by a brother judge, I asked my brothers, MacDonald and Metcalfe, to sit with me while hearing this application, and had the satisfaction of knowing that both concurred with me in the views here expressed."

"I therefore order that the accused be admitted to bail in the sum of $4,000 each and two sureties of $2,000 each."

Immediately the court had adjourned, E. C. MacMurray, together with the housemen, left for the provincial jail, where the formal proceedings preceding the release of the accused were being completed.

William Ivens was the first of the eight leaders to be released. His appearance in the doorway of the jail was the signal for cheers from the crowd of workers, numbering over 1,500, who had gathered to greet their leaders. Someone in the crowd started singing "For he's a jolly good fellow," and the song was immediately taken up. Ivens was "chained" and carried around the square.

"I've gained eight pounds in the time I've been here," said Ivens, "and I think I'll go out and rob a bank to get back; they've treated us so well."

Ald. John Queen was the next to appear. He, too, received the same greeting from the crowd. The remainder of the men, Ald. A. A. Heaps, George Armstrong, R. E. Bray, W. E. Pritchard, R. J. Johns, and R. B. Russell came one together.

They were immediately seized by their friends and "chained."

Want Red Cross Help

Canada Can Aid Kolchak By Sending Supplies

Ottawa.—Kolchak and Denikin must be given support by means of munitions and Red Cross supplies if the menace of Bolshevism is to be swept from Russia, in the opinion of Lieut.-Col. Douglas D. Young, who went to France with the B.C.D. and who was a member of the British military mission in Siberia.

Col. Young laid the facts about Russia before the members of the House of Commons. What Canada can do to help the down-trodden Russian people is to send Red Cross supplies, said Col. Young, who stated the men were being sent down from the line with their wounds bound up with dirty rags, and there was an entire absence of medical and surgical needs in the country.

Against Trade With Germany

Melbourne.—Premier Hughes, addressing a meeting of the Nationalists' Federation, said that Germany stood today the best organized nation in the world for a commercial war. He said some people had spoken to him of trade relations with Germany. If they wanted trade relations with Germany, they must get somebody else. (Cheers.)

Glasgow.—By an overwhelming vote the Trades Union Congress passed a resolution favoring the nationalization of the coal mines. The motion, presented by Robert Suttile, the miners' leader, was carried by a vote of 4,478,000 against 77,000.

The result of this vote was to throw virtually the entire congress solidly behind the coal miners' demands for the nationalization of their industry. The resolution pledges insistence by the body that the government adopt the majority report of the Coal Commission presented last June, known as the Sankey report.

This report provides for the state ownership of the mines and for joint control of their operation, in which the miners would have an effective voice. The resolution passed, calling for acceptance of the report by the government, adds:

"In the event of the government still refusing, a special congress shall be convened to decide what form of action shall be taken to compel the government to accept."

The resolution rejects the proposed alternative scheme of the government as contrary to the "interests of the nation," and as "creating the distinct frustration of the coal industry."

Postal Workers

Set Own Path

Will Not Affiliate With Trades and Labor Council Nor Participate In Other Strikes

Winnipeg.—At a meeting of the Winnipeg branch of the Amalgamated Postal Workers, it was unanimously resolved not to affiliate with the Trades and Labor Council, and not to participate in any local or sympathetic strikes. The general executive was informed that the Winnipeg branch desired the status permitting participation of a branch in local strikes deleted from the constitution. It was decided to demand from the government representation on any denotation that would meet the Cabinet to discuss the civil service reclassification bill.

The next meeting of the Winnipeg branch will discuss the reductions in salaries caused by the new cost of living bonuses, which bonus reduces salaries of most employees from $40 to $100 a year, and the changes desired in the reclassification bill.

Frank R. Suttan was elected president, William Moore vice-president, and E. J. L. Fuller general secretary.

To Further Irrigation Plans

Edmonton.—"There are a number of things to be settled between the Dominion Government and us in connection with the matter, but I can go ahead with your schemes, and we will not hold you up." This was the assurance given by Premier Stewart to a big deputation of landowners from Southern Alberta, who are interested in the promotion of irrigation in the south country, and came to the provincial ministry to ascertain their attitude in the matter.

Want Larger War Gratuity

Ottawa.—Representatives of the Great War Veterans who are protesting actively the demand for a $2,000 gratuity to each man who fought overseas are adopting a systematic plan of canvassing every member of the Commons. They are endeavoring to line them up for the party caucus to be held when Sir Robert Borden recovers from his indisposition. The attitude of each member is being reported to the local association, so that pressure from that end may also be exercised.

To Control Cold Storage

Washington.—The first of the high cost-of-living laws proposed by President Wilson took form when the house agriculture commission ordered favorably reported a bill to control cold storage. All containers of food when placed in storage would be stamped "cold storage food" and the dates upon which they entered and left storage would be stamped.

Irrigation In Southern Alberta

The Fear of Crop Failure Is En-gently Removed

Starting from Bassano, we went north and east until the Red Deer river was seen in the distance.

Around Countess and Rosemary, wherever the water had been applied, splendid crops were the reward. We halted at one farm where everything indicated recent settlement. The owner came along with a broad smile, and to our inquiry "How are the crops?" he waved his hand, "Look at them." Over 100 acres of wheat, thick, heavy, even crop, just turning to a golden shade, and will be ready for cutting in a week. Thirty acres of flax claimed our attention, a splendid crop, also on the farm. "That is some crop," we remarked, "what will it bring you?" "At the present price of flax seed it will be worth $1,800."

"The wheat will go better than 40 bushels to the acre. A nice patch of potatoes and garden vegetables were pointed out with pardonable pride by the owner.

He informed us that for three years he had been dried out on the other side of the Red Deer. He got the irrigated land this spring, broke it up, worked like a beaver to get his seed into the ground, "But oh, boys, it was worth it. She's some crop!" He then added that it was one hell of a time across the river, but his troubles were over.

The smile on his wife's face as she sat in the house to be built was pointed out, made one smile in return. "We'll soon have roses and a lovely garden," she remarked.

From there we turned south and east towards Millmont, on the Empress line. The work of extending the ditches to keep ahead of land buyers is some problem for the irrigation department. The season is all too short for the amount of work to be done. Building a railway is a recreation compared with constructing a vast irrigation system.

Just think for a moment what it means to bring water in sufficient quantity to supply every quarter section of irrigable land.

Settlement has just begun in the Millmont district, and thousands of acres will be under the glow by the fall of next year. From there to Brooks we cut west and south, passing many fine crops of wheat, flax, alfalfa, gardens a sight to behold, with sweet corn waving six and eight feet high. The first crops of alfalfa have been cut, and several second crops. We wanted to linger by these fields of alfalfa; the refreshing, sweet smell must be experienced to be appreciated. One thing we particularly noticed was the difference of the atmosphere in the irrigated district as compared with districts where the water had not yet been carried.

Approaching Brooks, we ran along splendid crops, some alfalfa cut all just about ready for the binders. On the Duke of Sutherland's farm of some ten thousand acres, where irrigation has been extended, the results are most gratifying, heavy yields being assured.

We nearly got lost in the company's farm at Brooks, such growth is bewildering. Right in the open we stumbled on pumpkins, melons, squash, cucumbers, etc., etc., and towering above our heads sweet corn laden with heavy ears. The strawberry crop has all gathered, but the party got finally together among the raspberries, and they tasted mighty good after the long hot drive. The time was too short to realize all that had been done, and the splendid results. Anything can be grown, and a number of apple trees are making great headway towards fruit bearing.

A fine field of alfalfa under the garden has been twice cut over this year, and a third crop is ready for the mower. We stumbled on a number of young hogs in this field, but they did not seem to realize that each day they were hastening their own doom.

From Brooks we turned straight north to Duchess, about twelve miles, and on leaving the town passed through a fine alfalfa crop of all kinds showing heavy yields. Further on, a dry-farming stretch was entered, and followed by another stretch of irrigated lands.

Here the contrast is most remarkable. In the dry-farming the farmers were using "headers," as the grain was probably ten inches high. The machines gather the grain in canvas, and will yield about eight to ten bushels to the acre. No hay or alfalfa, and the grass burned and bare. Immediately we crossed the next irrigation ditch, presto! everything changed. Waving crops on both sides, where cutting had been done, and the stocks were close together, and wheat would give returns of 40 to 60 bushels, and oats up to 100. The farmhouses appealed to us all, mostly of a bungalow style, all painted, and showed every sign of great prosperity.—A. Allan.

World's Canals

Are Compared

Soo Canal Leads the World in Volume of Business

The Detroit Free Press makes use of a British Foreign Office report on the Suez Canal as furnishing the means of comparison of the actual volume of traffic passing through the famous de Lesseps short cut to the Indies with the Panama and the St. Lawrence canals. The Suez figures are in gross tons, likewise for the Atlantic-Pacific waterway. For the Soo canal they are in terms of short tons of freight. But even with all possible allowances for this different method of computation the Canadian and American canals at the Falls of Saint Ste. Marie are far in the lead. For the fiscal years 1915 to 1918 the Panama totals are 5,416,787, 3,966,530, 8,530,821 and 9,271,398.

The greatest year in the history of the Suez canal was 1912, with a total of 28,008,945 tons, and for subsequent years through 1917 the tonnage was 27,737,139, 26,866,340, 21,027,437, 16,894,299 and 11,414,462. No figures are given for 1918.

Now take the Soo with seventy-two million tons in 1912, seventy-nine the next year, a fall to fifty-five in 1914, seventy-one in 1915, and in 1916 77 and 18 respectively 9,888,219, 89,813,898 and 85,680,327. Multiply by two the greatest year the Suez ever had, treble the Panama's biggest, add them together, and the Soo canals are still in the lead.

A Visitor From Sweden

Sent By Government to Study Alfalfa in Western Hemisphere

The system of experimental farms adopted by the Dominion and Provincial governments of Canada is immensely superior to that in vogue in the United States, in the opinion of Dr. Philip Herinid Witte, an expert who has been sent by the government of Sweden to study alfalfa in the western hemisphere, and who has now visited most of the states in the union, and nearly all the provinces in Canada. Experimental farms on this side of the line, the Swedish expert points out, have a cohesion and correlation that is totally lacking in Uncle Sam's territory, where each state runs its experiments on its own line, with no regard for what is being done in the neighboring territory or under the aegis of Washington. The result is that the information gained is largely of only local value, and extremely hard to digest in the bulk, owing to the multiple records and unrelated data.

Up to comparatively recent years Sweden has been dependent upon clover and other soft grasses for its forage, although alfalfa has been grown with fair success in many parts of the country. It is for the purpose of gathering information that will be of value to the dairy industry of Southern Sweden that Dr. Witte was delegated to visit America. Dr. M. O. Malte, Dominion agriculturalist from the Ottawa Experimental Farm, is accompanying the distinguished visitor in his journey of research. Their Canadian investigations recently took them to the British Columbia Colony Farm at Essendale, near New Westminster, where several fine stands of nutritious alfalfa were examined.

Climatic conditions in Southern Sweden, Dr. Witte points out, are very similar to those obtaining in some parts of British Columbia, which makes his research of some particular importance. He is convinced that on his return the Swedish Government will undertake to introduce alfalfa growing on a large scale among dairy farmers.—P. W. L.

Premier Botha The Statesman

Exceptional Character of South African Leader Receives High Praise At His Death

London.—Pages of obituary notices, special articles, photographs and incidents in his career testify to the importance to the position held by Premier Botha in the eyes of the British public. Experts who analyze the work and character of the deceased, emphasize less his astonishing career than his work as an empire statesman.

His stand in favor of the maintenance of the South African Union and his difficulties with the Nationalists in regard thereto are recalled. At a recent congress of the South African party in Bloemfontein he appealed for a host of union of the Dutch elements, based on recognition of the act of union, and the hope is expressed that this appeal of the great statesman may effect a reconciliation of the two sides of the great objects of his life.

A telegram issued by Right Hon. Herbert H. Asquith, former prime minister, reads:

"The death of Premier Botha is, in my judgment, as great a personal loss to the empire as it could have sustained. His talents as a commander in the field were of the highest order. In the sphere of statesmanship he showed qualities equally as great and even more rare. He will always be remembered as entitled to the main credit for the success of the most splendid demonstration in our history, of heading a unifying power of freedom and full self-government. For years I enjoyed and prized his friendship, and I deeply deplore his death."

A vivid picture of Premier Botha at the peace conference, knowing his health was precarious, yet not struggling against the possibility of death, is drawn by a writer in the Daily News, who states that at the conference, "everyone hung on to his word and his influence was constantly felt behind the scenes of questions such as mandates, Poland, reparations, etc. He was always for moderation and his weight on the British Empire delegation was decisive."

A writer in the Morning Post says that it was at the suggestion of Premier Botha that Premier Lloyd George met Hertog, the South African Nationalist leader. "Lloyd George's address," stated this writer, "obviously bears the marks of Botha's statesmanship."

It is claimed that Premier Botha left England a worn-out man and suffered a bad leg attack when between Plymouth and Madeira from which he never really recovered.

The news of Botha's death was received with the greatest regret at the foreign office, where officials had been impressed with his strong character and fine intellect. During the peace conference, one official told an interviewer that Premier Botha was one of the most remarkable and popular figures at the peace conference. He had very little to say, never anything for publication. But his influence was great. Everyone respected his intellect, realizing that there was much careful thinking behind his views."

Dutch and Belgian Dispute

Paris.—While rumors have been current in Paris during the past few days of increased tension between Holland and Belgium because of the Dutch reply to the Belgian case on the revision of the treaty of 1839, with intimations of a rupture of negotiations, the real attitude of the Belgians remains one purely of respectability. The flying visit of Foreign Minister Hymans to Premier Clemenceau yesterday had as its object a matter entirely unconnected with this question.

"Tell me something."

"Shoot."

"Do you say a girl is light complexioned or light complexioned?"

"Either way you're liable to wind up in a snarl. Say she's pronounced blonde!" Louisville Courier-Journal.

Ask Province To Make Probe

Judge Robson Requests Provincial Police to Look for Profiters

Ottawa.—Judge Robson, chairman of the board of conference, has wired all the provincial attorneys-general asking that provincial police be detailed immediately to an examination of conditions in each locality respecting food conditions, the quantities on hand, and the prevailing prices, and to report to the board.

It is asked further that the provinces engage counsel to prepare cases to be submitted to the board in any situation where there is a suspicion of unwarrantably charging inordinate prices. The board will deal with these cases as reported, as it cannot be all over the country at once. It will appoint competent sub-commissioners to investigate specific complaints, and will base its order upon their reports. Instructions have been given that all these sittings be public and open to the press, as will be the proceedings of the board itself.

The first sitting of the board will be held in Montreal.

Unwise Advertising

One Method That Got the Enterprising Merchant in Wrong

Many are the ways of advertising, but an unwise method, as it turned out, was discovered by the manager of a Kansas dry goods store, who arranged for a motion picture to be secretly taken of a lady making a purchase, and then went on with his plan for attracting other customers by having the scene displayed on the screen of a local motion picture theatre. Whether the lady saw it or not interested friends told her it was immoral; she disliked the idea of appearing in public as an actress. What made the affair even less pleasant was the impression created that she had been paid to act as customer. So she sued the store, and the Supreme Court of Kansas handed down a verdict against the defendant on the ground that taking and using the motion picture was a violation of the plaintiff's right of privacy. The case was a precedent, and supports the wholesome truth that there are persons who dislike publicity.—Christian Science Monitor.

For U. S. Treasury

Carnegie Estate to Pay Seven Millions Income Tax

New York.—About $7,000,000 of the $30,000,000 left by the late Andrew Carnegie will find its way to the United States Treasury as inheritance taxes, according to an estimate made by tax experts here.

Some doubt regarding the income tax on bequests made to Premier Lloyd George and other Britishers seems to exist. It is pointed out that if the principal from which the annuities are paid is sent to England, there will be only the inheritance tax to pay here, whereas if the annuity is paid from this side, the beneficiary abroad will be bound to American income tax law.

Cotton in the Far North

Flowers grow profusely in many parts of the Arctic regions. One of the most frequently met with is the cotton plant. Northern miners have a saying that wherever cotton blooms ice is not far below. One may walk for miles, between the months of June and August, through fields of cotton plants in flower, the white, silky tops swaying in the Arctic breeze. At present little use is made of it from an industrial point of view, except where the down is gathered for filling pillows. The flowers bloom luxuriantly, as in a garden where the sun shines continuously during the summer months. Among others, the flower-hunter may gather purple larkspur, bluebells, monk's head, primroses, asters, lilies-of-the-valley, and even a kind of Arctic geranium, pink or white in color.

Chinese Merchants Build

Boston, Massachusetts.—The Chinese Merchants' Association has erected a large building in the heart of the most Chinese district, which will serve as a headquarters for the association. The cost is about $50,000. The building is practically ready for occupancy, and the opening will take place next month.

The Scourge Of Tuberculosis

Scientific Treatment and Prevention of This Dread Disease

Dr. Roseman, in his work on "Preventative Medicine and Hygiene," points out, that as tuberculosis is an infection mainly spread from man to man through direct association, and secondarily from cattle through infected milk, the preventive measures fall into two categories: (1) avoiding infection and (2) increasing the resistance of the individual through personal hygiene and that both are essential in the prevention and control of the disease.

(1) Since tuberculosis is a communicable disease, one of the most important preventive measures consists in the isolation of those suffering from the disease. It is here that we can realize the importance of the sanatorium not only in providing scientific treatment for tubercular patients, but more important still in the great part it plays in isolating patients and helping to arrest the spread of infection. It should be remembered that patients having tuberculosis germs in the sputum, and especially when they are known as the open or advanced cases, are the greatest menace in the spread of infection, and hence it is of vital importance to the public health that provision be made for the proper isolation of such cases. Some of the sanatoria have at least three less new infections; many would put the number of infections at a much higher figure. It is noteworthy that tuberculous patients from the freest such countries where adequate sanatorium accommodation.

Proper living on the part of the individual, avoiding the infection and keeping physical fitness will go a long way in minimizing the risk of tubercular infection.

Bodily resistance is built up by adequate rest, fresh air, good food, sunshine, and avoiding all excesses. Avoid the common causes of infection, other people's pipes, dusty atmospheres, and milk from untested cattle unless properly pasteurized. In a word, live and let live.

Early diagnosis of cases is of the utmost importance in the success of prevention. When taken at the onset the outlook for the complete recovery of the average patient is of the brightest. When, as so often happens, the disease is advanced to a year or more before the proper treatment is undertaken, the chances of recovery gradually fade from bright to hopeless. Many patients delay obtaining medical advice for what they believe to be a "cold" or "bronchitis" or a "run-down condition," who would not hesitate giving prompt attention to a motor running on three cylinders. These are the cases which are so largely accountable for the mortality from tuberculosis. "Treatment too long delayed" could be written on numberless gravestones throughout our country's cemeteries. The physician in failing to make an early diagnosis of the exact nature of the patient's illness is also to some extent responsible for failing to recognize many incipient cases of the disease. Methods of diagnosis are now so refined that tuberculosis can now be recognized at a stage where in earlier days it could only be suspected.

This is one of a series of articles on tuberculosis which will be published in this paper in the interests of a campaign being conducted by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire to raise $40,000 for the erection of a children's pavilion at the provincial sanatorium at Port Qu'Appelle, Sask.

This pavilion, which is now under construction, to be used for the treatment of children threatened with or suffering from tuberculosis. The Daughters of the Empire rely on, and are confident they will obtain the co-operation and support of the people of Saskatchewan in this splendid endeavor on behalf of the children of the province. Please forward subscriptions to Mrs. D. M. Ballour, Provincial Treasurer, I.O. D.E., 2046 Robinson Street, Regina, Sask.

Poles Make Use Of Tanks

London, England.—Poles have captured the fortified town of Bobruisk, 85 miles southeast of Minsk, according to an announcement by the Polish authorities. They took 500 prisoners, and Poles used tanks for the first time. The enemy retreated to the eastern bank of the Beresina river, destroying the bridges.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and stomach troubles are rife at this time, and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Ex-Kaiser Not Wealthy

Amount of Cash When He Fled to Holland Was 650,000 Marks.

Berlin.—The total amount of cash former Emperor William had on his person when he fled to Holland was 650,000 marks, according to a statement made by Dr. Albert Suidekun, Prussian minister of finance. Dr. Suidekun also declared that a careful investigation had failed to prove that the former German imperial family has capital "planted" abroad. The minister added that he expected shortly to announce the proposed plan of settlement of the Hohenzollern family's financial affairs. This would not be dictated "by pettiness or malice" and would not call forth unjustified criticism.
